The Association for Preservation Technology Washington DC Chapter

2008 MEMBERSHIP INFORMATION & FORM

APT DC is a not-for-profit educational association founded in 1980 to serve the needs of preservationists in the greater Washington, DC metro area. APT DC promotes the exchange of ideas and knowledge concerning the conservation of historic resources and the application of preservation technology. To achieve these ends, we organize tours, lectures, and symposia. Every year, we publish newsletters highlighting upcoming events, reviewing recent tours and lectures, and promoting exchanges with other local groups with similar interests.

APT DC is a local chapter of the Association for Preservation Technology International. APT International was founded in 1968 to disseminate information on historic building materials and systems and to promote development of preservation technology. More information on APT International is available on their website: www.apti.org.

Members of APT DC include architects, conservators, consultants, contractors, craftspersons, curators, developers, educators, engineers, historians, landscape architects, managers, planners, preservationists, technicians, trades people, and others involved in the systematic application of the knowledge of methods and materials to the conservation of buildings, districts and artifacts.

Join and become part of APT's longstanding commitment to the preservation field. For more information on APT DC programs and publications, go to our website www.aptdc.org or contact us at apt_dc@yahoo.com.
